- How it will broaden the range of activities and experiences available to the community.

Project outline: *

The objective of the project is to hold a public exhibition at the Procter Library for the community to visualise the barriers to change that often go unrecognised; local dancers and gymnasts will creatively make visible issues of inequality.

The exhibition will feature 16-24 portraits of strong girls 'claiming space'. Using their friendships and physicality to improvise, play, and dance to promote inclusion. It will attract local, regional, national, and global attention as the exhibition is being aligned with the International Women's Day 2024 theme "count her in".

We aim to highlight the importance of play, recreational and sports spaces for girls with a focus on valuing young people's ideas and designing local facilities using a gender lens to overcome structural barriers.

This project will enable an ongoing process for investment partners to recognise the value of engaging with women and girls in facility and park design and development.
